

Centurion Anywhere Daily Use Guide

Thank you for trusting Centurion Anywhere to help amplify the daily safety and security of yourself, and those around you. The Centurion Anywhere panic button is a device that relies on Bluetooth connectivity to your cell phone and then connectivity from your phone to cellular service or Wi-Fi.

Because this is a life safety device, it is our recommendation that you complete the following check daily:

- 1. Please ensure the cellular and/or Wi-Fi connection is turned on.
- 2. Please ensure the Bluetooth is turned on.
- 3. Please open your Centurion Anywhere application and ensure the button is connected to the phone.
